Excerpts from Selected Writings by Saichō:

“Prayer on Mount Hiei”

“Oh Buddhas
Of unexcelled complete enlightenment
Bestow your invisible aid
Upon this hut I open
On the mountain top.

[Dengyō Daishi zenshū IV, p. 756 (1912 ed.)]

“On the Possibility of Enlightenment for All Men”

In the lotus-flower is implicit its emergence from the water. If it does not emerge, its blossoms will not open: in the emergence is implicit the blossoming. If the water is three feet deep, the stalk of the flower will be four or five feet; if the water is seven or eight feet deep, the stalk will be over ten feet tall. That is what is implied by the emergence from the water. The greater the amount of water, the taller the stalk will grow; the potential growth is limitless. Now, all human beings have the lotus of Buddhahood within them. It will rise above the mire and foul water of the Hinayana and Quasi-Mahayana, and then through the stage of the bodhisattvas to open, leaves and blossoms together, in full glory.

[Dengyō Daishi zenshū, IV, p. 436 (1912 ed.)]

“Vow of the Uninterrupted Study of the Lotus Sūtra”

… I vow that, as long as heaven endures and earth lasts, to the most distant term of the future, this study will continue without the intermission of a single day, at the rate of one volume every two days. Thus the doctrine of universal enlightenment will be preserved forever and spread throughout Japan to the farthest confines. May all attain Buddhahood!

[Dengyō Daishi zenshū IV, p. 749 (1912 ed.)]

“The Mahāyāna Precepts in Admonitions of the Fanwang Sūtra”

At that time, the Buddha Shakyamuni, seated under the Bo tree after having attained supreme enlightenment, first set up the Precepts (Pratimoksa): to be filial to one’s parents, teacher(s), members of the Buddhist community, and the Three Treasures. Filial obedience is the way by which one attains the Way. …

4. In the case of a son of the Buddha lying, urging others to lie, or lying for expediency — whatever the cause … condition … method … or the act of lying — even if one says one sees something without actually seeing it or says one did not see something when one has seen it — a bodhisattva should always give rise to correct speech and [help] all sentient beings to give rise to correct speech and correct views. If, on the contrary, one prompts sentient beings to evil speech or evil views, one commits a most unpardonable offense for a bodhisattva.
